Mr. Robert Wilde was really thrilled when he received his government grant.

Mr. Wilde Receives Government Grant; Bruce Shepard took a second To Tour Ethiopia

Congratulations should be extended to Mr. Robert Wilde, American Government instructor, since he has been selected to receive a government grant for an all-expense paid summer trip to Ethiopia. There he will study East-African economics and politics at the University of Hailei Salassie I in Addis Ababa, the capital of Ethiopia.

Mr Wilde will leave shortly after school ends for three days in Washington, D. C., where he will attend an orientation meeting with other teachers selected to go on the seminar. He will then take a jet to Africa. In addition to his studies at the University, Mr. Wilde will tour Kenya and the U.A.R. where he will meet businessmen, officials, and local groups. He also has "high hopes" of visiting such places as Lake Victoria, one of the main sources of the Nile, Murchison Falls, and the renowned Aswan

When Mr. Wilde returns in late August he will submit a report to the school board and he plans to address local groups who are interested in policies in East Africa and who wish to hear any comments about his trip.

Meixcan Tour Rewarding; Dons Delighted, Fascinated

The student tour of Mexico, from April 9 to April 16, was a great success, to the delight of the students and Miss Sifuentes. The tour included such fascinating cities as Mexico City, Taxco, Guadalajara, and Puerto Vallarta.

To begin their plane trip, the group from Acalanes arrived at Mexico City, where they visited the famed Palace of Chapultepec, the massive Cathedral, and the Tocalo, (Main Plaza). Also explored were other points of interest, modern and historic. The students attended the exciting Bull Fights and found the famous performance of the "Ballet Folklorico" to be a rewarding event. This was the world-renouned performance of the typical native dances of the Mexican people, including the dreamy "Wedding in Tehuantepec" and "Christmas in Jalisco." The group was guided along a scenic route to the quaint Indian village of Taxco-one of the most picturesque of Mexican towns. The group was led over the winding cobblestone streets through the colonial atmosphere of the charming hillside village. On arrival to Guadalajara they discovered the semi-tropical city to be in full bloom. They wandered through flower-filled parks and plazas, viewing the impressive colonial architecture and stylish mansions. A great variety of native handy crafts are found in the markets; leather goods, baskets, serapes, hats and earthen ware.

Miss Sifuentes feels that the trip was a tremendous experience to better their German speaking for the students and hopes many will sign up for the tour next year. ability.

'RIGHTS' SESSION -

Seven Acalanes students attended the recent high school Human Rights Conference at Asilomar. This conference, open to all high school students in the United States, was held April 12 through 15. The 550 students that were there included Lucy Bartholomew, Terry Knox, Renee Malloy, Ward Malloy, Assif Sarabi, Dana Snider, and Kelly Wisner.

The purpose of this conference entitled "A Generation of Hope" was to enlighten students to the real problems and ways to combat them. The four days included recreation, small group discussions, and a general session, not to mention good meals. At the general session there were two speakers, Dr. Noel Brown, under secretariet to the UN, spoke on Human Rights in a Changing World," John D. Gala Mardi Gras-Everyone Come!

Tonight's the night! Under the able direction of Carol Esser, many students have been diligently preparing for the Mardi Gras which will take place tonight from eight to midnight. Highlights of the evening include a beard-growing contest for boys who have signed up a week in advance with Mr. Stevens, and a hairy legs contest. There will also be contests for the best girl's and the best boy's costumes. It's hoped that the old spirit of the Mardi Gras will return bring with it original costumes, costumes will mean forty-five cent reduction in price for admission.

Each class and club will have its own booth established in the gym. Booths of skill involve the A.F.S. bean bag toss, the Acadonna penny pitch, the rally poker-dart game, the senior class jello throw, the Los Amigos vollyball throw, the Spanish Honorary ballon shave, the freshman class ring toss, the Medical Club dart throw, the C.S.F. coke bottle fish, the Aklan turtle race, and junior class golf. Skill will be prompted by a soft drinks and hof brau stand run by the German Club, snow cones sold by Acalanes Statesmen, popcorn by G.A.A., and delicious cotton candy sold by the Blueprint staff. The last has not been seen of senior suckers either. Other booths include the Dramadon's fortune telling booth and th sophomore class marriage booth. At ten o'clock the booths close and the door prize drawings begin. Excellent prizes are being offered by each booth. The freshmen class is offering a five dollar gift certificate at Freddie's the sophomore class a five dollar gift certificate at Baskin Robbin's, the junior class two tickets to "The Committee," and the senior class is offering five dollars cash. The rally committee prize is a transister radio, the prize from the Blueprint staff is a financed date which includes two tickets to the "Fantasticks", gas, and pizza at Freddie's. Block A is offering a five dollar gift certificate at Grodin's, C.S.F. two tickets to "The Sound of Music", the Aklan staff a five dollar gift certificate at Baskin-Robbin's, A.F.S. is offering two dinners at El Charro's, the prize from Los Amigos is two albums. Spanish honorary is offering two tickets to a Giant's game; Acalanes Statesmen a five dollar gift certificate at Grodin's; Acadonnas a five dollar gift certificate at Capwell's; the education a five dollar gift certificate at Canpana's; Dramadons five dollars at Campana's, the German club five dollars at McCallous, and G.A.A. is offering tickets to the Giant's game.

After the booths close a dance to the theme of "Carousel" will be held in the lunchroom.

THIS IS ACALANES

By JOYCE COTTRELL and BECKY McKEE

Now that Easter vacation got you all back on your feet, it's time to work on getting into that depressed mood again. It's easier than you thing to get back in the old slump. But, before you start to concentrate on that, let's revive those memories of vacation.

Everyone was going away from our little town, which is understandable. Carmel was quite the place to be. Mark Jan Lois and Richard Lee had an exceptionally good time. Some of Bob Stoop's fans were fighting over him while Julie Smith refereed. Lucy Bartholomew stopped off in Santa Cruz on the way home to get her ears pierced. Patty Butler, Jackie Caddel, Jennifer Taft and many others found reasons to return next year. Brooks Boyer, Connie Beadle, Penny Prentice and Linda Vernazza hopped over to Hawaii for a tan while Sue Spragans found one closer to home in Palm Springs. Pat Sibely and Caryl Stevens had quite a bit of trouble from those boys in Mexico. You were just too much for them, huh girls? Katie Lee, Kathy Okerstrom, and some of their more illustrious friends, were so anxious to get to the beach that they pushed the car, which was low on gas, over the mountain to Stinson only to find that it was raining.

Here at home some activity has been taking place, too. Tom Fitzsimmons has been giving flowers to girls on their birthdays, namely Sandy Sherman and Judy Stensquard. Maybe he's starting something. We hear that Mark Cheney, Frank Cunningham, Steve Mercier, Wayne Wilkinson, and hte rest of the graceful group have taken up ice-skating. Susie Fee, what's this about a celophane dress? Just so it has a high collar and comes below your knees. Doug Leonard seems to enjoy falling off the cliffs at the Cliff House while Jack Jay gets his kicks writing dictionary words. Kacy Cook, would you care to tell us all about your little sailing trip or are you still a little shaky? Then there are those of us, such as Mary Roberts who still haven't quite made it home with the old report card. That beard-growing contest for thhe Mardi Gras is going to be pretty competetive judging by the early starters. Dale Windes is well on his way to first place. Flash! In case anybody is interested, the hang out for the junior girls has changed from Bear Creek Road and the pigs to Nortonville and the caves. Nobody's interested.

Down in the lower quarters there's been some excitement. John Finch had quite a party a little while ago, complete with some unexpected guests from the friendly family pool hall. Sally Dreyer and Gail Mefford have discovered cigars. That's right girls, skip the small stuff. Brynn Christensen and Janis Peterson have taken up the guitar. Hey Susie Salmon, who's that boy you keep staring at on the lawn at noon?

Acalanes is about due for the annual epidemic of spring fever, lethargy, and an increase in senioritis. Elections are coming up, too, so keep your eyes open and prepare for, what can collectively be called, unexpected disturbances.

Besides promoting school spirit, Carol is ambitious in her music and academic subjects. A member of A Capella, she participated in the operetta and really enjoys singing. She started singing in her church choir and took several years of piano. Music, however, is not what Carol plans as a career. Paul is a transfer from New York, where he lived for over 15 years and went to school through his sophomore year. When asked which he prefers, New York or California, he said that he disliked drawing comparisons. Partly, he says, because he's asked himself the same question for the two years he's been here and hasn't, as yet, come to a conclusion.

His extracurricular activities are somewhat shadowed from explanation. He is the patriotic president of the I.H.M. club and vice-president of the C.F.T.D.O.-

Paul likes basketball, baseball, physics, American history and American government, photography and lasagna.

URGED TO ATTEND

HEAP OF THE MONTH

Social Commentary by John P. Merrill

As has been the case for as long as any of us care to remember, tradition took precedence during Spring vacation, and once again a goodly number of the ravishing young things that decorated our campus were off to Carmel on their annual treasure hunt. Naturally our dear automotive editor, who has a habit of rising to every occasion (when he should usually keep his seat), set about at once to find the proper vehicle in which to attend and chronicle the forthcoming event.

The vehicle honored by our beloved automotive editor's decision was one of corporate ownership, namely the Tongue-in-Cheek. Its sleek lines and reserve power adapt it suitably to its function as official workhorse for the Committee for the Display of the Goods. The Committee, a civic minded group dedicated to investigation of the intrigues of subversive girls clubs at Acalanes (and incidentally the erstwhile Anti-Sorority League), was chosen to take their Tongue-in-Cheek to Carmel and find out just what the girls were up to. A spokesman for the groups, upon learning of the Committee's scheme, made a statement to the effect that the girls' work would be confined to strictly charitable activities. Some mention was made of hospitals for children and homes for this and that, but to most of the incedulous crew who comprise the Committee, it sounded just like the same old story. The illusions of what few fans the groups had were quickly shattered, as we soon realized that the girls would accomplish no more than picking a few daphnes. Such allegories are admittedly tiresome, but are necessitated by an equally tedious policy which the members of the Committee (a rather well-bred bunch) adhere to with undying

Once on the track in Carmel, the Committee was shocked to discoverer that their deepest fears were well founded. Most of the girls were engaging in the hunt-and for charity. The logic behind this method, as explained by one of the unquestionably efficient chaperones, was simply that most of the girls are charity cases.

This unfortunate circumstance was realized by the Committee as they toured the Carmel area at dusk in the Tongue-in-Cheek. The evidence was found walking up and down Main Street in twos and threes, and seemed to point out the fact that the girls were hunting for a treasure whose value exists only in the eye of the beholder.

Four "I" (superior) ratings were received by the Acalanes Band at this event, while, the Orchestra received two I's and two II's. This combined total of six I's and two II's was one of the very best attained by a school at the San Rafael festival. Out of seven thousand students." approximately 25 schools (from five counties) which sent instrumental groups to this event, only two others earned ratings comparable to ours.

In addition to the certificate of ability usually awarded to "I" bands and orchestras, CMEA officials this year will present Acalanes with a special large engraved plaque, honoring the excellence of Mr. Elvo D'Amante's musical groups. It will soon be on display in the music room. Also, the band, by merit of gaining four superior ratings, will travel to the University of the Pacific in Stockton on the afternoon of May 8, for a "Com-mand Performance," where they will appear along with other bands of equal quality from all over Northern California.

Optometry is a vigorous young profession concerned with the care of human vision. There is a real need for more men and women trained in this field.

The curriculum covers five years, including two years of pre-optometry which can be taken at any college. The three years of professional study are taken at the University of California at Berkeley in small classes with an unexcelled faculty and at low cost.

SPRING SPORTS LACK DEPTH, EXPERIENCE

Now that spring sports have finally gotten underway several obvious trends can be seen materializing in the individual

In tennis, it is quite apparent that we will once again take second place in the F.A.L. competition. It seems a pity that we must once again finish second to the Miramonte Matadors. This tradition has existed ever since the "Mats" entered league competition. However, after this year, Acalanes should finish first for at least two consecutive years for our number one and two men on the team are sophomores and much of the strength of this year's club lies in the underclass-

Our golf team this spring boasts an undefeated record which, with a few good breaks, should continue on to a league championship. Golfers Dave Shank, Dick Lee, Rick Cartmill, Jim Clapp, and John Mount are perhaps the finest group of golfers ever to be assembled at Aca-

The Don baseball team, lacking experience and depth, have so far this year compiled a 1 and 4 record in league play. Most of the Dons' troubles lie in the area of experience. Presently on the ball club there are only two seniors, Dale Speyer and Jack Jay. However, with the experience that the freshmen and sophomores are receiving now, we should dominate the league in future years.

It is apparent that our track team lacks depth and victories after the first few meets. However, the "B" track team should take a first in league competition for the first time in at least a half-dozen years.

The Acalanes mermen are just beginning league action and have hopes for a first division finish. However, the competition this year is tremendous and the Dons will have their work cut out for them. Already, the swim team has dropped meets to San Leandro and Berkeley, two top teams, but both scores were close and we should do better against F.A.L. teams.
